

SUMMER READING
2020

ONCE UPON A TIME

★ Ask a parent or older relative to tell memorable family history stories

- Younger kids can draw a picture. Older kid could make a short story book about the event(s).
- Tell family stories while organizing photo albums, write down details for future generations.

★ Explore the Oklahoma Historical Society E-Exhibits

- Look at one or more exhibit online <https://www.okhistory.org/kids/index>
- They also have fun printables for all ages

★ Make a time capsule. This article has some great ideas on how to get started: <https://www.wikihow.com/Create-a-Time-Capsule>

★ Explore the Stillwater History Museum at the Sheerar

- Take the Virtual tour <https://my.matterport.com/show/?m=sQrAN2fXA6Z>
- Create your own museum! Can you create an exhibit at home of things such as your favorite objects, a collection (things that are all similar), or items that teach about a topic?

★ Visit one of Ms. Elizabeth's favorite dinosaur museums and find a fun activity to try
